3. Confirming our conversation on recent date, it is understood that your office will prepare a letter to [redacted] requesting a statement of overhead costs which will achieve a closer approximation of the concept of "actual costs." You will note that section (b) of the reimbursable costs schedule has been left blank.

4. [redacted] has requested that the attached revision of the proposed contract and your letter of instruction, be channeled through his office sometime prior to release, in order that he may advise the corporation in a less formal manner. It is assumed that you will route the file in such manner to assure the necessary coordination between CAS and [redacted]
